« I met my husband in 2014 thanks to the website, a year later I came to join him.

In Russia I worked as an interpreter for international companies.

In France, I worked as an assistant manager in luxury ready-to-wear.

For me, France is the No.1 country in the world: such a small territory, but so rich, with its landscapes, its architecture, its cultural richness, its gastronomy, its army, its economy, research, health, its social model...
